College Admissions Requirements:
Updated January 2010

Column Heading	Explanation
ACT/SAT	A school may require either the SAT or ACT or they may be test optional.
ACT Essay	A school may require the optional ACT writing section (for ACT students) or they may not.
SAT Scale	A '1600' means that only the critical reading and math sections are considered; '2400' means that all three sections are considered equally.
Score Choice Participant	A 'Yes' means that the institution does not object to students submitting only the scores of their choice.
Superscoring	Superscoring is the process of taking the highest subscores from different test dates to find a student's highest combined score.
Subject Tests	The guidelines for SAT subject tests are given.
Early Action	The Early Action deadline for fall 2010 entry is shown.
Early Decision I	The Early Decision I deadline for fall 2010 entry is shown.
Early Decision II	The Early Decision II deadline for fall 2010 entry is shown.
Regular Decision	The Regular Admission deadline for fall 2010 entry is shown.
Note	General deadlines are given; some programs, including honors programs, may have different application deadlines.
Note	Information for universities applies to flagship campuses unless otherwise noted.
Note	Schools that don't require subject tests for general admission may require them for honors programs and home-schooled students.
